Places of Interest

Lal Tibba

For nature wanderers, photography enthusiasts and mountain gazers, Lal Tibba is perfect. Located upwards of main Mussoorie in the cantonment area of Landour, the most appropriate way to explore is to drive up to Char Dukaan and then take the short hike to Lal Tibba. Essentially a gazing spot that offers majestic views of the Himalayas, one can walk around the mountain and take a detour to sister's bazaar and spend some time at St. Paul's cathedral

Gun Hill

One can enjoy a thrilling ropeway ride to Gun Hill, the second highest peak of Mussoorie (2122 mts). The peak offers a panoramic view of the Himalayan ranges.

Camel's Back Road

The place offers a picturesque view of the sunset and a life-like resemblance of a sitting camel. One can enjoy long walks and horse riding here.

Sir George Everest House / Peak

Colonel Everest owned a house in Mussoorie, Uttarakhand, India, for about 11 years. The house was virtually derelict, it still has its roof, and there have been various plans to make it into a museum. Built in 1832, the house is known today as Sir George Everest's House and Laboratory, or Park House. The house is situated in Park Estate about 6 kilometres (4 mi) west of Gandhi Chowk / Library Bazaar, (the west end of Mall Road in Mussoorie). Its location has panoramic views of the Doon Valley on one side and the Aglar River valley and the Himalayan Range to the north. It has a beautiful fireplace, roof and the door and windows are still intact. The access to the property has been improved substantially, the walls are covered with graffiti and then periodically white-washed clean. Recent new fencing, tree planting and the construction of a ticket booth (as of late 2015) indicate that at some point it will cost to enter the property.

Mussoorie Lake

The lake is a picturesque, serene and calm location in the city of Mussoorie and is one of those spots that one can possibly not afford to miss while one is in this city. This huge artificial lake is well known for boating.

Kemtpy Falls

The most popular when it comes to mainstream tourist attractions, Kemtpy falls are about 14 kms out of main Mussoorie. Most hotels in Mussoorie, recommend a visit to the gigantic falls, as it's a great picnic destination. With several shops and diverse flora and fauna, these falls are a must visit
