Royal Table at Paatra

The northwestern Indian subcontinent has seen the era of rulers from different religions and cultural backgrounds. The traditional culinary lineage of Indian food has been perfected since time immemorial. The authentic Indian food is perfect in taste and aroma because it is prepared and garnished with all the true ingredients and spices. The cultural diversity has been taken as an inspiration to curate the excellent menu and retain the unique taste that captures the essence of a meal, that is nothing short of a royal Indian treat.

The menu, the décor, the flavors and the cutlery, everything is bound to make you feel special at the 'Royal Table'. Paatra, the Indian speciality restaurant attempts to take you on a culinary journey with the Royal Table. Win the heart with our specially curated five course meal amidst a royal setup that will transport you to the era of Maharajas & Maharanis.

Proclaimed as one of the best fine dining restaurants in Delhi by Times Food & Nightlife Awards, Ano-Tai is the Specialty oriental (Chinese) cuisine restaurant. It has been in existence since years and yet remains timeless and ageless classic in the luxury fine dining segment. Even today the critics vouch for the authentic taste of the hand-crafted dishes by the Master chef (Jin Lima) from China. The subtle yet contemporary ambience of the restaurant with huge windows allows you to peek through the kitchen and revel into the art of creating the perfect harmony of the elements that is nothing less than poetry. The private dining area allows you the intimacy that you require to savour your meal to the fullest. The perfectly spiced Sichuan and Hunan dishes will certainly surprise your palette and take you on a sojourn of the colourful cultural diversity of classic delicacies. Ano Tai has been awarded 'Best Fine Dining Restaurant' at the Times Food & Nightlife Awards in 2015.

Places of Interest

India Gate

The 42 meters high, free-standing arch designed by Lutyens and built in 1931, is dedicated to those 90,000 soldiers of the Indian Army who died in World War I. The names of these soldiers are inscribed all along the walls of the arch.

Rashtrapati Bhawan

The President's residence. The sprawling acropolis houses 350 rooms of which the most magnificent is the Durbar Hall under the main dome. This ceremonial hall is the venue for all official functions hosted by the President.

Red Fort

It was a mini-city with palaces, offices, workshops and audience halls. From the Lahore Gate of the palace, the Prime Minister of India addresses the country and unfurls the national flag on Independence Day every year. The fort also houses the 49 feet Naqqar Khana (Drum room), Naubat Khana (Welcome room), Diwan-e-Aam (Hall of public audience), Hammam (the bathing area) and Moti Masjid (the Pearl Mosque).

Jama Masjid

A flawless piece of architecture, it is situated on a natural elevation southwest of the Lal Qila. To the eastern gateway, is a cluster of shops. As one ascends the southern minaret, one can experience a spectacular panorama of the city and the southern skyline of New Delhi's high rise buildings.

Qutab Minar

Situated within Surdas Reserve Forest is a Scenic Lake, Sur Sarovar. It is a tranquil spot, ideal for relaxed outings. A wide variety of fishes and water birds add to the lake's natural charm and beauty.

Safdarjung's Tomb

Built in 1753-1754, the tomb is the last enclosed garden tomb in Delhi. It has several smaller pavilions with evocative names like Jangli Mahal (Palace in the woods), Moti Mahal (Pearl Palace) and Badshah Pasand (King's favourite).

The main gateway houses a library maintained by the Archaeological Survey of India.

Purana Qila

In the year 1538, Emperor Humayun, son of the first Mughal ruler, Babar, laid the foundations of a city he named Dinpanah, or the Refuge of the Faithful. The inner citadel of this city is called Purana Qila. Within 6 years, Humayun was ousted by the Sher Shah Suri who promptly renamed the city Shergarh and added many buildings to it.
